

IHOD project, Training the Trainer Workshop “Improving competencies of health care professionals in the area of Public health”
18 hours of direct contact and 8 hours independent learning activities

SCHEDULE OF WORKSHOP

Far Eastern Federal University, Vladivostok, Russian Federation, October 7-11, 2019

TIME	MONDAY 07/10/2019	TUESDAY 08/10/2019	WEDNESDAY 09/10/2019	THURSDAY 10/10/2019	FRIDAY 11/10/2019
09.30-10:15		-Introduction to Public Health: Functions and competencies of public health professionals	-Development of curriculum for professional training. -Individual/group assignments (L.Š)	-Compare and contrast different modes of module assessment for the modules selected	-Patient – centered care in public health (A.B.)
10.15-11.00		-Strategies and models in health promotion and disease prevention (L.Š.)	-Presentations of the group assignments (L.Š)	-Modified lecturing: Formative and Summative assessment (A.B.)	-Case study
BREAK 11.00-11.15
11.15-12.00		-Models of learning and teaching: -Bloom’s and Fink’s models and application of these models in learning and teaching.	-The role of NCD epidemiology in establishing the causes of disease: causality and critical reading of research papers (L.Š)	-Evidence based medicine and critical thinking in Public health	-Presentations and discussion -(A.B.)
12.00-12.45		-Development of curriculum. Individual/group assignments (L.Š.)	Case study (A.B)	Case study (A.B)	-Conclusion and evaluation
LUNCH
15.00-16.30	- Bologna declaration as instrument for international collaboration of universities -Chronic diseases as a global problem and IHOD project. (L.Š.)	Independent or group work on course assignments related to curriculum design	Independent or group work on course assignments related to curriculum design	Individual assignments

Lecturers: LŠ-prof. Linas Šumskas; AB – prof. Aurelija Blaževičienė (Lithuanian University of Health Sciences, Kaunas, Lithuania)